Deferred from last week.]
The Court of Appeals has recently reversed the case of Martha Howe vs. Commonwealth, taken up from the last term of our Circuit court. They also reversed the cases of Conn Cable and John Cable, tried at the same term. This is a considerable rebuke to Judge Lilly and the juries of Wolfe county. It says that men should not be over-zealous and only convict men when it is warranted by the law and the fact.

Died, on last Monday morning, at 5 o'clock, Rev. Isaac Hobbs, one of our best citizens who lived about four miles from town. He received a slight wound on the back of his hand a week or so ago, and blood poisoning set it in from which he died.

James H. Stamper, Jr., has purchased a lot of timber from S. P. Howe and others near town and will move a mill to it in a short time for the purpose of cutting it. He will haul the lumber to the railroad at Torrent.

Grant Hurst, who was charged with having taken some goods from the store of J. T. Day & Co. some time since, being in jail in default of said charge, was tried before Judge Tutt last Monday and acquitted.

There was public speaking in town Monday by Hon. A. H. Howard, of McGuffin, and Hon. J. B. Marcum, of Breathitt, his opponent on the Republican ticket. Each one seems to think that he is the man.

J. N. Vaughn received a severe wound on the hand a few days since, and the doctors think that blood poisoning is setting in. He is unable to attend to his business.

Court of Claims is now in session, and nearly all of the Justices are present. Will give result of their work next week.

J. Scott Johnson, of Washington, D. C., but formerly of this county, registered at the Combs House Tuesday.

Henry I. Godsey, W. O. Mize and A. P. Lacy, of Hazel Green, were in town Monday attending County court.

EDITOR HERALD—Permit me through the columns of your valuable paper to give a few items from this section.

Willis Lykins, son of Joshua Lykins, on last Tuesday picked 200 pounds of cotton, and after supper was sitting in the yard with his brothers when he remarked that he felt very tired and fell over dead. This was a sad blow to his parents, as he was a promising young man.

Cotton picking is the occupation of the day. I have picked seven bales and have about eight more to pick out. It now brings 71 cents per pound, but I think it will go up to 8 cents.

We had a chicken hatch out with one wing. It is now about half grown and thrifty.

Tell Uncle Remus, George Brooks and George Bishop homely for me.

Respectfully, J. S. HARPER.

The Constitution Violated.

"The corporations and wealthy individuals, who are engaged in large manufacturing establishments, desire a high tariff to increase their gains. Designing politicians will support it to conciliate their favor, and to obtain the means of profuse expenditure for the purpose of purchasing influence in other quarters. * * * Do not allow yourselves, my fellow citizens, to be misled on the subject. The Federal government can not collect a surplus for such purposes, without violating the principles of the constitution, and assuming powers which have not been granted. It is moreover a system of injustice, and, if persisted in, will inevitably lead to corruption, and must end in ruin."—Andrew Jackson.

Much Truth in a Few Words.

If a little of the sympathy now being so industriously spread over the grave of Editor Rucker, at Somerset, had been tendered him when he was wasting his energies in fighting the whisky and saloon elements, his daughters might not be in mourning today. Postmortem encouragement is not worth a cuss.—Danville Advocate.

Beale Heer, four, played with fire at Columbus, O., and was burned to death.

ELKHART, O.K., Sept. 28, '92.
EDITOR HERALD—I have been a reader of your paper for some time and am always glad to see it come to my new home in Texas, and when I read it, how close it draws all of my old Kentucky friends to me. I will tell you what I think about Greer county, Texas. I think it does extra well for a newly settled country. This beats any country I ever saw for people to turn out to church or gatherings of any kind. People here, or a majority of them, are first class, male up from nearly every town in the Union. I have been living here seven months and have not seen one drunken man or heard an oath sworn. I live on the main road from Queen to Mangum and am hardly ever out of sight of wagons. I live about one hundred yards from a wagon yard and blacksmith shop, and about two hundred yards from a church and school house. People here are very kind and sociable. We raised wheat, oats, millet, sorghum, sweet potatoes, peanuts, and all the watermelons we could use. In the way of a garden it was almost a failure. Everything came up very nice and looked well until the drought killed it. People here plant very early and deep in the soil. I would not advise old people who have good homes to break up and go to a new country, but I think it will suit young men, as they can get both homes and a wife. This is a good inducement. Come, boys, to the Lone Star State, we have as good soil as there is anywhere, and I hope and trust the Lord we will have plenty of rain. This is a beautiful country. A few Mondays ago we all took a ride in the wagon. We went out where we could see several mountains 30 or 40 miles over in the Indian Territory. I have not seen any Indians here yet. It is so nice to ride over the country and see so much nice land broke up for wheat, and it is as loose as it can be. I think I am safe in saying that all of the Kentucky folks are well enough satisfied to give Greer a fair trial, but some have had long faces. S. P. Napier gave up all hope of riches and has made his way back to old Kentucky. Bro. Hogg is not dead as rumored, but is well and trying to preach the gospel in its purity. If we close for this time, wishing THE HERALD and its readers much success.
Yours, MRS. LATRA ELLIK.

The Tin-Plate Tariff.

Republican tariff writers are either very ignorant themselves, or presume on the ignorance of their readers. Lately all the Republican papers have published a piece of news about tin plate, which is so palpable a falsehood and one so easily proved, that it is surprising they should have the courage to publish it. We refer to the report that the tin plate industry in Wales is almost ruined because the tariff has stopped imports into America, and fostered the manufacture of tin plate in this country. This is as far from being true that during the first eight months of this year more tin plate was imported into this country than, with one exception, in the same time in any previous year, and of course, on this the American farmers and laborers had to pay the extra price the tariff imposed on them.—Midway Clipper.

Public Speaking.

Hon. J. M. Kendall will speak in the interest of the Democratic ticket at the following times and places: Martinsburg, Monday, Oct. 24; Flat Gap, Tuesday, Oct. 25; Paintsville, Wednesday, Oct. 26; Sater, Thursday, Oct. 27; Guinard, Friday, Oct. 28; Pikeville, Saturday, Oct. 29; Prestonsburg, Monday, Oct. 31; Huesville, Tuesday, Nov. 1; Hindman, Wednesday, Nov. 2; Near Buck P. O., Thursday, Nov. 3; Jackson, Friday, Nov. 4; Boatyville, Saturday, Nov. 5; Staunton, Monday, Nov. 7; Clay City, Monday, Nov. 7, at night. Speaking at 1 P. M. All are invited.

Dead in a Mississippi Jail.

Albert Foster, who was indicted with his elder brother Henry for the murder of ex Congressman Morgan, of Hernando, Miss., died in jail at Holly Springs last week from typhoid fever. Albert flagged the train on which Judge Morgan was journeying from Hernando to Memphis, and, boarding it with his brother, walked through the coaches until he spied the intended victim, whom he pointed out to Henry, who shot him from behind and killed him. Albert stood by to assist.

—John is said to have written the gospel which bears his name at sixty and the book of Revelation at ninety.

—The first Italian Methodist Episcopal church in the United States was recently dedicated at New Orleans, La., and is a great work of the lazzarini among the Italian people there.

—The next lord mayor of London will be a Roman Catholic, and he will appoint a Catholic priest as his chaplain. He is the first instance of a Roman Catholic holding the latter position since the Reformation.

—There is a village in Austria called Terbeck of which all the inhabitants are chess players. "The game is regarded as a science, and is taught from early age; there is a public examination in the game and a distribution of prizes in the shape of chess boards.

—The late Mr. Douglas Hailey, formerly a Jesuit, Rochester, has left considerable property to the churches of the British and Foreign Bible society, the Church Missionary society, the London city missions, the Irish church missions and the Moravian missions.

—The Rev. Mr. J. H. Waddell, an evangelist in connection with the Church Missionary society, and about 2,000 adherents under instruction. The Gospel of Matthew has been translated into the language of the Kumburattang people on New England, was attended with the highest joy.

—Several years ago a movement was inaugurated among college students in America to secure the pledges of students to abstain from the use of alcohol. Nearly 8,000 have pledged themselves to abstain from the use of alcohol.

—The New Zealand census shows 107 churches and chapels and 400 churches buildings used for worship with sittings for 25,000, or about one-half the population. The number attending religious is 107,000, of whom 75,000 are Protestants, 37,300 Episcopalians, 9,500 Roman Catholics, 97,100 Wesleyans and 14,400 belonging to the Salvation Army.

—The Electrical World says that "the rapid growth of industrial applications of electricity has placed the study of electro-technics on a footing with the other sciences of engineering. Indeed, it is now the prevalent opinion that the statistics show that the number of students who choose the electrical studies are larger numerically and technical schools is yearly increasing."

A CARELESS POSTURE.

It is often the habit of such and serious folk.

—A grown people and children alike are inclined to fall into the very bad habit of sitting down in a chair and sitting for hours with the spine bent almost in half circle. That this is injurious to the health of the spine and the muscles of the back is a fact which all those who have investigated the subject are well aware of. The continual strain upon one end of the spinal column with the corresponding compressions on the other end, causes a curvature of the spine, a twisting of the brain, dizziness, nausea and blind spells are not infrequently the result of this practice. While the perfectly upright position is undoubtedly the best for the spine, it is not so easy to persuade the young and indolent to maintain it.

—Lazy people and those who have a heavy home a habit of "slumping," so that the spine is bent in a curve, and in a semi-recumbent position with the spine as nearly telescoped as may be.

That portion of the human anatomy generally known as the back is the chief seat of spinal troubles. In the upright position, and the constant pressure of the sections of the vertebrae upon each other is productive of various ailments.

Children should be taught to sit erect, especially if they are growing quickly. When tired or in a position of rest, let them lie down and entirely remove the strain from the muscles of the back. The pressure of the back on dizziness or headache, are immediately observed. It will frequently be noticed that their position is faulty. The forced strain of the spine results in the stiffness of the back, the back of the neck, and the difficulty is quite certain to be removed by correcting the habit of sitting. — N. Y. Ledger.

A Possible Case.

The patrolman was before his chief having slipped on his beat on Sunday night.

"You surprised Officer Sling," said the chief, reproachfully; "that this charge has been brought against you."

"Yes, am I, sir," responded the officer.

"You were never guilty of such an offense, and you took your present act."

"No, sir."

"Have you any excuse to offer?"

"Yes, sir," said the officer, confidently.

"What is it?" asked the chief, requiring any beat, and I can't get out of hearing of the serious, sir."—Detroit Free Press.

HENRY C. LILLY as a candidate for Circuit Judge in the Twenty-third Judicial district, composed of the counties of Estill,
Lee, Wolfe, Breathitt and Magoffin.

For Appellate Judge.
We are authorized to announce Judge W.
H. HOLT as a candidate for re-election as Judge of the Court of Appeals at the November election, 1892.

For Commonwealth's Attorney.
We are authorized to announce JAMES R. MARCUM, Esq., of Breathitt county, as a candidate for Commonwealth's Attorney
in the district composed of Breathitt, Estill, Lee, Magoffin and Wolfe counties.

For Circuit Clerk.
We are authorized to announce H. M.
COX as a candidate for Circuit Clerk of Morgan county. Election Nov. 8, 1892.

THE Mt. Sterling Gazette now comes to us a bright 7-column semi-weekly, and we wish it great success. The daily issued by the Sentinel-Democrat through the Montgomery fair was a shiny and a success. The Journal is always replete with refreshing news. Mt. Sterling is so full of good newspapers that the citizens can scarcely tell which is the best.

PERHAPS because blood lines are closer than political ones the editor of the Clay City Chronicle sees through a glass that is darkly smoked by sympathy when he accuses us of making a personal attack upon Judge H. C. Lilly. A fellow feeling makes us wondrous kind. "Birds of a feather flock together," and the Lillys of the field are nearly always found in close communion.

FROM Gov. Brown's message to the General Assembly, Dec. 30, 1891, we find that the witness fees allowed in some of Judge Lilly's courts last year were excessive in the extreme. For instance, in Perry the sum then expended was $1,
$49.20; in Knott, $1,586; and in Clay, $1,496. In bloody Rowan only $16 was expended for this purpose, and in Wayne it was but $12.50. It will be seen that all five are mountain counties, but the two latter are unfortunately not in the Old Judge's district. Who is responsible for this state of affairs? Evidently Judge Lilly has outlived his days of usefulness, and the Democratic party will see that after November 8th next he retires to private life "full of honors
and old age."

THE universal verdict of the people
from all sections who visited our fair,
has been, "an immense success," but a close relation of Halaam's favorite stud,
now engaged at West Liberty in editing
the Messenger, solemnly brays:

The Hazel Green fair was not what it was expected to be. The weather was fine, and if all the necessary arrangements had been made before hand it should have been a grand success instead of a failure.

That the "jack ring" did not fill was no fault of the association, but being tagged for free entry you should have come over, and had you displayed the same qualities as portrayed in the above
you would have got the blue. Gen. John Morgan would have given way through courtesy, and afterward succumbed in envy.

GAZE ON THIS PICTURE.

CECIL.

Register of the Land Office.

AND THEN ON THIS:

There's a name that's never spoken,
There's a judge that's not to be broken, [at all].
And he wishes he hadn't voted for ASHURY
There is still a memory living
And a people's indignation
Who will cast their votes for that frigg this

ASHURY.—The man for whom Holt voted for Register of the Land Office.

COUNTY CLERK'S CERTIFICATE.

STATE OF KENTUCKY,
MONTGOMERY COUNTY, } Sec.
I, G. A. WHITNEY, Clerk of the Montgomery County Court, certify that W. H.
HOLT, now a Judge of the Court of Appeals of Kentucky, on August 6, 1893, in Mt.
Sterling, Ky., VOTED FOR W. W. ASHURY, A NEGRO, for Register of the Land Office, AGAINST J. G. CECIL, A WHITE MAN, whose vote is recorded in the poll books on file in my office.
Witness my hand this August 27, 1892.

THE editor of the Clay City Chronicle,
Judge James Lilly, who is, by the way,
a relative of Judge H. C. Lilly, in the last issue of his paper devotes a column of his valuable space to show that we are unfair in our diagnosis of his Republican relative's record, and we plead "not guilty." No newspaper in Kentucky has said Judge H. C. Lilly more compliments than THE HERALD. We have never failed to compliment him when we felt that he deserved it, and when assailed
by the press of the State a few years ago we defended him against all his defamers. We did so because the attack was unwarranted and because we liked to look at the good things he had done.
We prefer now, for political purposes, to point in unmistakable characters the good things he might have done had he not been handicapped by age. But we have endeavored to avoid personalities, and if perchance we have encroached on that preserve, we beg pardon. But all this aside, Redwine will be our next Circuit Judge. Stick a pin here.

WHEN such men as Gen. Wayne Mc-Veigh and Judge Walter Q. Gresham desert the g. o. p. it is about time for the Republicans to throw up the sponge.
Mr. Gresham's support of Cleveland will undoubtedly give Indiana to the Democrats, despite the fact that it is Harrison's home State.

WIPED FROM OFF THE EARTH.
On Wednesday last the Dalton band of outlaws, the most notorious in the west, were wiped off the face of the earth at Coffeyville, Kansas. They made a bold attempt to rob two banks at their old home. This was their first attempt at a bank robbery and their last. The citizens aroused by an alarm, were soon
ready to give them a warm reception with their Winchester. Jim Spier, a citizen and liverman, with his rifle killed three of the outlaws in so many seconds. They succeeded in killing three of the citizens. This is the same gang that robbed the Pacific Express Car at Adair, I. T., last July and committed, other daring robberies. — Mt. Sterling Gazette.

Kentucky Oil Wells.
The Kentucky oil fields are at last being developed, and we will soon astonish the world. Wayne county is the present center of the oil bearing region. Many wells are now open and producing the finest lubricating oil. Much land has been leased by a company of substantial men of New York and Kentucky. They will at once begin the erection of a pipe line 35 miles long; will also erect tanks with a capacity of 150,000 barrels. This is a great enterprise for Kentucky, and we hope to see the good work go on and at an early date to see the great oil fields of Eastern Kentucky developed.

The cases of murder, conspiracy and aggravated riot against Chairman Frick, Secretary Lovejoy and others of the Carnegie officials and pinkerton detectives, brought by Hargens, McFackie, of Homestead, were before the grand jury Tuesday, but no returns were made.

George Parker and Oscar Arnold of independence, Mo., quarreled over the settlement of accounts at the former's store
Tuesday. Parker attempted to eject Arnold, when the latter shot him in the abdomen, inflicting a fatal wound.

WOLFE COUNTY.

Millenium sparkles.
Quite a crowd of Republicans passed through here Saturday, en route to the convention held at Canton for the purpose of selecting delegates to the Beau-ville convention, Oct. 11, to nominate a candidate for Circuit Judge. I presume that some of them were converted while there, for, on their way back(?) they were hallooing, "Rah for Redwine."
T. Z. Cecil and family of Cedar Bluff,
Va., are visiting relatives in this neighborhood. Mr. Cecil says he likes Kentucky people and is well pleased with the country. They are talking of returning to the "Old Dominion" this week.
News is very scarce just now, but we hope to have more news and subscribers
for THE HERALD by and by.

Probable Important Arrest.

A few days since a woman came to the authorities and swore out a peace warrant against her alleged husband John Davis, charging him with whipping her. In default of the required $150, Davis was sent to jail, where he is at present. The woman tells a somewhat sensational story about her experience with Davis. She says that Davis is wanted in Hancock county, Tennessee, for murdering his brother. She states that Davis was in jail and was finally admitted to bail, and shortly after being liberated, she came with Davis to Morgan county, but he soon began to abuse her, so she left him and went to Missouri, and from that point she came to Ashland, Ky., where meeting Davis, they settled their troubles, and together came to Bath county, but he soon began to beat and abuse her as of old, so she came here and had her large lord taken in hand by the law. Davis denies the story told by the woman and says she is not his wife. Jailor Nixon has communicated with the authorities of Hancock county to ascertain whether Davis is wanted there.—Owingsville Opinion.

Unless we are very much mistaken, these exponents of the doctrine that "marriage is a failure," lived in this town for a short while a few years ago, and wife-beating was a frequent complaint by "Becky." Davis was a good-for-nothing-never-work-a-lark sort of a cuss, always under suspicion, and if he be the same deserves a term in the pen on general principles.

Alexander's army knew no defeat. The same is true of Dr. Fenner's Golden Relief. It is warranted to relieve toothache, headache, neuralgia, or any other pain in 2 to 8 minutes. Also bruises, wounds, wire cuts, swellings, bites, burns, summer complaints, colic (also in horses), diarrhoea, dysentery and flux. If satisfaction not given money returned. For sale by Rose & Jones.

Henry Cox is the Man.

The announcement of Henry M. Cox as a candidate for clerk of the Morgan Circuit court has been anticipated by many and is highly pleasing to the people of Morgan county. This is clearly a case of the office seeking the man. The people know who they wish to serve them in a public capacity, and from the first suggestion of Henry Cox as a candidate it has been admitted that he was the one the people would delight to honor. Honest, capable, true to his friends and unwavering in his convictions of right, he does not court over-popular wave in order to gain public favor. You always know where to place him—free from false pride, ready to aid the deserving, generous and kind to every one, in close touch with the wants of our people. Should he be elected to the position we feel safe in saying our citizens will have a servant faithful to their interests, reflecting credit on them and honoring himself by the performance of his duties. Cox is the man.—Morgan Messenger.

Steam navigation was once looked upon with doubt. So was the power of Dr. Fenner's Cough Honey to relieve any cough in one hour, until thousands of trials demonstrated the fact. Equally good for horses. Gives energy and strength. Money refunded if satisfaction not given. For sale by Rose & Jones.

The K. U. shops to go to Lexington. The K. U. car shops will be erected here sure. The Joint Railway committee of the General Council, in company with several members, went to Clay City on Sunday last to look into the matter and were well pleased with the plant of the company located there, which is to be transferred to this city. Upon their return the committee secured the legal opinion of Col. D. G. Falconer, who, after looking into the contract with the city and the K. U., decided that the city was bound to pay the money.

The committee will report tonight in favor of the proposition to the General Council, and will also introduce an ordinance providing for the issuing of $15,000 in funding bonds to meet the obligation.—Lexington Press.

Why isn't this a good thing? Dr. Fenner's Kidney and Backache Cure is warranted to give satisfaction in every case or money returned. Such a proposition couldn't be thought of if the medicine wasn't superior to all others. For sale by Rose & Jones.

A Good Officer.

George W. Drake is one of the most efficient officers this section ever had. He left here Tuesday night, went to Breathitt, got his witnesses, and was back to breakfast Wednesday morning. He rode fifty miles that night.—Beattyville Enterprise.

Before and After the McKinley Bill.

This law was passed October 1, 1890. The House which passed it was chosen by the people in 1888. The first opportunity the people had to pass judgment upon it at the polls was in November, 1890. The law was the theme of popular discussion everywhere and had been for months before. The voice of the polls in the verdict of the people on the action of their representatives.

Before the McKinley law was passed the party of protection had a plurality of twenty-three thousand in Michigan, twenty-two thousand in Illinois, thirty-one thousand in Iowa, twenty-seven thousand in Nebraska and twenty-one thousand in Wisconsin. After it was passed these States went Democratic by pluralities ranging from twelve hundred to twenty-eight thousand.

Before it was passed the Republican plurality in Kansas was eighty thousand and in Minnesota thirty-eight thousand. After it was passed the plurality in the former State was reduced to nine thousand and in the latter to less than three thousand.

Before it was passed Massachusetts gave Harrison thirty thousand plurality. After it was passed that State elected a Democratic Governor by nine thousand plurality.

If it be said that these striking and significant results were due more or less to local issues and influences, the same can hardly be said of the Congressional elections. What do these show?

When the McKinley bill was passed there were in the House a hundred and seventy-six Republicans and a hundred and fifty-five Democrats—a Republican majority of twenty-one. After it was passed there were elected to the House two hundred and thirty-eight Democrats, eighty-seven Republicans and seven Alliance members—an overwhelming Democratic majority.

After it was passed the party of protection lost seven Congressmen in Illinois, five in Iowa, five in Kansas, four in Nebraska, four in Minnesota, six in Wisconsin, six in Michigan, nine—including McKinley himself—in Ohio, three in Pennsylvania and five in Massachusetts—all Republican strongholds.

In line with these results are the reelection of Governor Boies in Iowa and Governor Russell in Massachusetts and the great plurality of Governor Flower in this State last year—to say nothing of the Republican losses at the recent elections in Maine and Vermont.—New York Herald.

For headache, biliousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, the blues, scrofula, the blood and all skin eruptions Dr. Fenner's Blood and Liver Remedy and Nerve Tonic never fails. Wanted to satisfy or money refunded. Could this be afforded if the Remedy wasn't certain? For sale by Rose & Jones.

How Mr. Morgan Stands in Breathitt.

The announcement of J. R. Marcus as a candidate for Commonwealth's Attorney in this, the Twenty-third Judicial district, appears in The Hustler to-day. Mr. Marcus was born and reared in Breathitt county, was educated in her common schools and at Jackson Academy. He studied law with Wood & Day, of Mt. Sterling, was admitted to the bar in 1885, and located in Jackson in the spring of 1886. He has applied himself diligently to his profession since that time, and has built up a good practice. Mr. Marcus is 34 years old, a good lawyer and a worthy citizen.—Jackson Hustler.

A Guaranteed Remedy.

Megrimus, the only permanent cure for all forms of headache and neuralgia, relieves the pain in from 15 to 20 minutes. For sale on positive guarantee at THE HERALD office, or sent postpaid by mail on receipt of price, 50 cents a box.

A Premium At Our Fair.

W. M. Kendall's fine horse was awarded the red ribbon at the Hazel Green fair last week as the best saddle horse on the grounds. Mr. Kendall had no idea of entering him until a few minutes before he was put upon the track. Some competent judges claim that he should have been awarded the blue ribbon, but not being accustomed to the track and entirely untrained he deserves credit for the prize obtained. Jimmie, the little son of John Kendall, was the jockey, and displayed some fine horse sense for one of his age.—Morgan Messenger.

Successful Driver.

J. H. Goldsmith had such great success in the grand circuit last year with Pimlico and others, writes: "I have given Quila's Ointment a thorough trial and I can truthfully say it is the best preparation for removing a splint or curb that I have ever used." For sale by Rose & Jones.

Sinking of the Ada V.

Last Wednesday night the Ada V. sprung a leak, and gradually sank to the bottom of the river. She was tied to the bank with two large cables, and but for this fact would have careened completely over. As it is, one gunwale is about two feet under the water, and the machinery flooded. No one seems to know exactly how it happened. One of the colored deck hands was sleeping near the boiler, and awoke to find himself surrounded by water, and before any thought could be done to stop the leak the boat had settled over on her side and sunk.

All day Wednesday men were at work endeavoring to get her up. First one plan was tried and then another, until some brilliant mind hit on a plan. The simplest thing in the world—just ball her out! A fire was built under the boilers, steam gotten up, and about twenty buckets were borrowed from the fire company. At a given signal the pumps were started and everybody began to bail. About a million gallons of water were poured out when they discovered that it was impossible to bail a hole in the river and gave it up. Then another man had a sure thing, and like a drowning man catches at a straw, his plan of knocking off part of the false work on the dam, and letting the backwater flow over, was immediately adopted. The water gradually settled down—so did the boat—and when night came she was no nearer afloat than at the time she sank. The man that knew exactly how to get her up was, of course, there, and in everybody's way, and if all his suggestions had been followed, Mr. Thompson would have spent more than the boat cost, and likely as not she would now be completely submerged. Mr. Thompson, however, expects to get her afloat today by prying her up with levers. This appears to be the only way of raising her, and she will doubtless make her regular trip to Lumber Point tomorrow.—Beattyville Enterprise.

Still Our Purpose.

"Tariff reform is still our purpose." In the letter of Grover Cleveland to the people, expresses the whole aim and purpose of the Democratic party on the great issue between the protected few and the unprotected millions. No halting; no temporizing; no compromise measures—tariff reform is still our purpose until trade has been released from protective shackles and its benefits distributed among all our people, the manufacturer shorn of his special privileges and taking with the rest of the people neither more nor less.

With that purpose in view; and with the purpose to stand between centralization and the right of the people to control and regulate elections of their public servants in the manner deemed right and fair and appropriate to them, the Democratic party goes into the campaign armed and equipped for successful issue; and all other questions to be settled afterwards.

Lane's Medicine moves the bowels each day. In order to be healthy this is necessary. Beattyville and Winchester Railroad. The Beattyville and Winchester railroad, connecting with the K. U., will be finished and trains running about the 10th of November. The connection from Beattyville to Winchester, and from the latter point to Versailles, will fill a long and much-needed want for those living along the line and in this section, and even to many at a distance in every direction. Cost of different varieties, all of the very best, from many domestic mines in the State, will be furnished to consumers at low figures and in abundance. The scenery along the line is said to be the most beautiful on earth. A $30,000 hotel is being built at Beattyville. Mr. Robert Wallace, of this county, is president of the road, and to his energy and enterprise and to Woodford county capital (for this road is being built by Woodford county capital) all are indebted for this great boon, for a boon it will be to every one and to every section.—Clarion.

Encouraged in His Race.

Hon. D. B. Redwine returned from Hazel Green fair last Saturday very much pleased with what he saw, and especially with what he heard while there. He reports the fair a great success, the exhibits being superior in quantity and quality. What he heard that was so gratifying was his political prospects. He says the Democratic ranks are solid as far as he could hear, and sympathizing friends of the opposite party assured him that they would render him valuable aid in the contest.—Jackson Hustler.
